

Patients' experience of receiving hip fracture care in 2016

Hip fracture is the most common serious injury in older people and costs the NHS and social care £1 billion per year. In 2016, over 65,000 people aged 60 or older presented to 177 hospitals in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

